

slight gap in waist

leg elastics
prevent leaks

rise snaps to adjust
as baby grows

spotting a good fit

Many modern cloth nappies have adjustable rise snaps. This means they can be adjusted to fit from birth to potty.

They fit differently than disposable nappies, sitting lower and more like underwear.

In cloth nappies, the leg seal (rather than the waist) prevents leaks.

fabric tucked into
underwear line

